Class Agents are fundraising volunteers who encourage their classmates to support the Skidmore Fund.

What’s in it for you?

- Keep in touch with your classmates
- Engage in new networking opportunities
- Be a key player in the Skidmore community
- Be the first to know about the latest Skidmore news

What does being a Class Agent involve?

- Make your own gift or pledge early so that you can ask your classmates to join you as a donor.
- Personally contact 8-10 classmates per semester to make an annual gift to the Skidmore Fund.
- Use the online fundraising tool to track your class’s progress and report your outreach results.
- Thank donors.
- Participate in periodic class conference calls and brief training webinars.
- Optional: If you’re a Facebooker/Twitterer/Instgrammer/Redditor/blogger, use social media to encourage giving and share news about Skidmore.
- Let us know if your classmates are up to anything of note. We’re always looking for interesting alumni stories to highlight.
- Let the Skidmore Fund staff know if any questions or concerns arise. We want your volunteer experience to be satisfying and fun.

Time Commitment

- Class Agents focus their fundraising efforts during a few weeks in the fall and spring.
- Outreach takes about two to four hours each season.
